All classes take place at Flux Factory unless otherwise noted

Utopia School is a month-long social center hosted by Flux Factory for the purpose of studying Utopian experiments throughout time, as well as practicing skills towards building new free spaces and practices. These classes, screenings, discussions and games will be connected by the essential question: What kinds of information are useful for re-imagining the future?

There will be several Utopians-in-Residence as well as class leaders involved in running the space at any given time, co-learning together, and teaching classes. Opportunities are still available for additional course proposals or volunteer participants.

Utopia School is open October 1-31: Wednesday-Sunday from 12pm-10pm at Flux Factory, 39-31 29th Street, Long Island City, NY 11101, except when otherwise noted.
